

TERESA M. TREIGER, RN-BC, MA, CHCQM-CM, CCM, CCP, has over 30 years of healthcare industry and 20 years of care management experience. Following years of bedside nursing, Teri worked in managed care, acute hospital, rehabilitation and long term care settings eventually focusing in program design and implementation.

Teri has published on case management topics such as patient-centered medical home, advancing technology use, and future trends in care management. She was primary investigator in the 2010 Health Information Technology Survey. She co-authored chapters on interdisciplinary care transition teams for the American Gerontological Society and business considerations legal nurse consultants for the American Association of Legal Nurse Consultants. She serves on the Editorial Board of Lippincott's Professional Case Management journal and CMSA Today magazine.

Teri is actively committed to professional case management, serving as the National President of the Case Management Society of America National for 2010 – 2011. She is currently the Immediate Past President. She is board certified in case management by the American Nurses Credentialing Center, ABQAURP, and the Commission for Case Management Certification. Teri is also President of the Case Management Foundation and Secretary of the National Transitions of Care Coalition Board of Directors.

Teri's speaking engagements take her across the United States, to Australia and South Africa with topics such as integrating case management practice, consumer engagement, use of social media, multi-state nursing licensure, technology, transition of care, professionalism in case management and current case management challenges. Teri serves as adjunct faculty at the University of Southern Indiana and as educational consultant to a number of corporations. She is on the National Transition of Care Coalition's Board of Directors, URAC's Patient-centered Primary Care Home Advisory Panel as well as their Pharmacy Advisory Committee, RadSite's National Accreditation Committee, and the National Perinatal Association's Multi-disciplinary Guidelines for Late Preterm Infants Steering Committee. Teri is also a member of the American Board of Quality Assurance and Utilization Review Physicians (ABQAURP) Case Management and Transition of Care Certification Workgroup which will launch a first-of-its-kind Transition of Care specialty credential in 2012.

Teri is active in public policy, meeting with federal and state legislators and regulators to encourage the adoption of the Multi-state Nursing Licensure Compact and the Case Management Model Act which proposes protections for the job title and functions of case management. Teri's advocacy has taken her to Capitol Hill, the Department of Health and Human Services, the Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality, and the White House for meetings with top legislators, regulators, and healthcare policy makers. She is currently principle at Ascent Care Management focusing on care management, technology, and educational solutions.